Retailing in Cambridge

Cambridge is one of the UK's premier retailing destinations. The combination of historic university and collegiate buildings linked together by pedestrianised cobbled streets creates a thriving and attractive retail core centred around Sydney Street, Market Street, Petty Cury, and Market Hill.

TOTAL RETAIL FLOOR SPACE:
1.49 MILLION SQ FT

Total retail floor space in Cambridge is estimated at 1.49 million sq ft, which reflects its status as the dominant regional retail destination within its immediate catchment and beyond.

Grande Arcade and Lion Yard, comprise two adjoining shopping centres fronting onto Petty Cury and are anchored by a 670,000 sq ft John Lewis. Other retailers with representation here include Apple, Tesla, JD Sports, Mango, All Saints and Hollister.

The city's third covered shopping centre, the Grafton Centre, which is a 10 minute walk from the city centre, is being repositioned into a mixed use, life science led facility. This will reduce retail supply in the city centre and reinforce the historic retail core as the dominant retail provision within Cambridge city centre.
